Fra den 13. april – 5. maj 2010 afholdt DOF Travel tur til Indien og Bhutan. Det var første gang, vi besøgte Bhutan, men næppe sidste.

Hovedformålet med turen var Bhutan og turen var tilrettelagt, som en aktiv fugletur med besøg til forskellige kulturelle seværdigheder. Programmet var en kopi af de mange store udenlandske fuglebureauers programmer, som har stor erfaring med ture i landet.

På vejen ud og hjem havde vi et ophold i Indien. På vejen ud havde vi 2 døgn, som vi brugte til at besøge et par lokaliteter samt Taj Mahal.

Bhutan er et fremragende fugleland. Der er næsten ikke noget skovfældning, og der er uberørt skov i det meste af landet. Landet er de seneste år også blevet en meget populær destination blandt ornitologer verden over. Vi mødte da også 6 forskellige fuglegrupper på vores tur. De fleste fugleture bevæger sig fra den vestlige del af landet til den østlige eller omvendt. Desværre er der meget få steder, hvor du kan komme væk fra vejene af f.eks. mindre stier. Dette betyder, at du de fleste dage går og ser på fugle fra vejen, mens du bevæger dig fra den ene by til den anden. De seneste år er trafikken af lastbiler steget markant, og på visse strækninger var det meget svært at høre andet en lastbilstøj. Det ville have været meget behageligt, hvis der havde været nogle stier ind i områderne, da 18 dage langs en vej ikke er særlig inspirerende i længden. Men mon ikke der også bliver udviklet på dette område i fremtiden.

Vi brugte lokale arrangører til at lave arrangementerne. I Bhutan brugte vi Yangphel Adventure Travel, som også andre fuglebureauer bruger. Yangphel havde lavet en fint og velfungerende arrangement, dog var vi stillet en bestemt fugleguide i udsigt som viste sig ikke at være den person, vi fik. Vi fik en venlig og kompetent kulturguide, men fugleguide var han ikke. Det er meget nemt at rejse i Bhutan, og landet har åbnet meget op for turister de seneste år. De fleste steder bygges der nye hoteller, og servicen er altid meget venlig og imødekommende. Hvis du skal rejse i Bhutan kræver det, at rejsen arrangeres gennem et lokalt bureau. Dette bureau arrangerer alt fra hotel, transport, guider visum m.m. Prisen er fastsat af regeringen og var 200 USD pr. dag. Dette inkluderede så et helt dagsarrangement såsom hotel eller camp, transport, mad, guide m.m. Prisen er den samme, om du skal bo i telt eller på hotel.

Den vestlige del af landet var meget turistudviklet med fine hoteller med både fjernsyn og internetadgang på værelserne. Standarden faldt drastisk jo mere østpå, vi bevægede os, og nåede bunden ved grænsebyen Samdrup Jonkhar. Vi overnattede i telt i 8 nætter, og her blev der sat en flot telt-camp op. Vi havde gode amerikanske telte med feltsenge, spisetelt, badetelt med varmt vand og flere toilettelte. Der var 7 personer som servicerede os, og kokken var blevet uddannet til at lave vestlig mad. Vi følte os godt tilpas i telt-campen og foretrak denne frem for flere af de hoteller, vi blev udsat for i den østlige del af landet.

I Indien brugte vi det lokale naturbureau Wild World India. De havde foreslået et program, som på papiret lød rigtig godt, men i praksis ikke rigtigt hang sammen. Det tog cirka dobbelt så lang tid at køre mellem de forskellige steder som beskrevet i programmet. Det betød, at vi brugte rigtig mange timer i den hæsblæsende indiske trafik i stedet for på fuglelokaliteterne. De steder, vi besøgte, var fuglerige og især flodturen var en stor oplevelse.

Turens pris var kr. 36.800, hvilket inkluderede al transport fra København, landarrangement i Indien og Bhutan, lokale drikkepenge, lufthavnsskatter samt DOF Travel service.

I rejseguiderne står der beskrevet, at det ikke er høfligt at give drikkepenge i Bhutan. Men stigningen i turismen har gjort disse guider meget forældet, og i dag forventes der ret høje drikkepenge til guider, chauffører, tjenere m.m. overalt i Bhutan.

Turens deltagere var: Martin H. Nielsen, Susanne Hollev, Hans Hinke, Henning Kaulberg, Svend Pettersson, Lis Kastrup, Tine og Kim Moesgaard Iburg, Lise og Jens Fabricius, Marianne og Erik Mølgaard.

Turens notater blev lavet i fællesskab af den del af gruppen, som deltog i den (næsten) daglige tjekliste gennemgang.

Da vi som tidligere nævnt de fleste dage så på fugle langs vejen, har det været næsten umuligt at sætte lokalitet på de mange stop. Derfor er fuglelisten denne gang udarbejdet med, hvad vi så pr. dag.

En stor tak til Tine for hjælp med dyrelisten.

Rapporten er inddelt i følgende afsnit:

- Rejserute
- Fugleliste over arter set i Bhutan
- Fugleliste over arter set i Indien
- Dyreliste

Til sidst en tak til samtlige deltagere for en god tur
